

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A mixer is provided comprising: a casing (20) having symmetry of rotation about a first axis (13), mixing members (22) driven in rotation relative to the casing (20) and about a second axis (15) that is inclined relative to the first axis (13), the casing (20) and the mixing members (22) being driven in rotation about the first axis (13) at a determined speed. As mixing is performed just by the mixing members, mixing of the ingredients is controlled throughout the medium.
